

Upcoming Events

Wayne Sawchuk, President and CEO of ColoSpace, will be a participating speaker at the upcoming Mass Technology Leadership Council Presentation of Energy-IT/Cross-Cluster Program: "Cooling the Data Center". Wednesday, December 5, 8AM-11AM at the Foley Hoag Emerging Enterprise Center, Bay Colony Corporate Center.

The panel of industry executives and energy innovators will address such topics as:

- ◆ What are the short- and long- term risks and opportunities at the intersection of info tech and green tech?
- ◆ How is your data center managed now - in house, leased space, global distribution?
- ◆ What issues do you face with different data center models?
- ◆ Have you adopted policies and best practices to support energy goals?
- ◆ Are you implementing new technologies now?
- ◆ What are the characteristics of a green data center?
- ◆ Do security and regulatory issues factor into your decisions?
- ◆ Are your green initiatives connected with your corporate social responsibility efforts?
- ◆ What's your favorite big idea for the green future?

As ColoSpace customers, you will be able to attend this event at Mass Technology Leadership Council member rates. Additional details on this event can be found at: http://function.masstlc.org/programs/event_single.cfm?eventid=803
